Wall Display Units

Alpha Communications® features a complete line of hanging wall display unit, featuring their intercoms, video-intercoms, nurse-call systems, and various signalling systems and devices.

Stocking distributors, that have a showroom, may qualify for several different programs where they can receive these displays at little or no cost!

Shown on this page are our two (2) most popular models, but we can also customize the equipment on the display, or the actual display, where required.

Most displays, including the ones shown herein, are non-working type, eliminating the possibilities of feedback, and eliminating the need for electric to power the display.
